

Expeditionary Advanced Base (EAB) Operations

Marine units deployed as part of a MAGTF may find themselves employed as independent, scaled, task-organized forces for missions to seize, establish, and operate multiple, widely-dispersed EABs. We must improve our ability to:

- Employ EABs for offensive actions in support of sea control.
- Reinforce EABs with manned and unmanned long-range strike, anti-ship, anti-air, and C2-extending systems to transform the site into a sea-denial outpost.
- Serve as hubs supporting the integrated naval logistics network, providing temporary forward and intermediate staging areas for MAGTF follow-on echelons and sustainment operations.
- Leverage the NECC, Naval Beach Groups, and Joint capabilities to complement the MAGTF.